Six Honorees Selected for the James Beard Foundation's Sixth Annual Leadership Awards

~ Annual Awards Dinner Co-Hosted by Good Housekeeping Celebrates Visionaries Responsible for Creating a Healthier, Safer, and More Sustainable Food World ~

New York, NY (June 22, 2016) – The James Beard Foundation (JBF) today announced the recipients of the sixth annual James Beard Foundation Leadership Awards. This year's honorees are: Greg Asbed and Lucas Benitez, John Boyd, Jr., Anna Lappé, Jim McGovern, and Raj Patel. The awards spotlight the important and complex realms of sustainability, food access, and public health. To bring awareness to such issues, each fall, in conjunction with the James Beard Foundation Food Conference, the nonprofit recognizes visionaries across a broad range of backgrounds who influence how, why, and what we eat.

"This year's honorees are game-changers who have made an impact in improving childhood nutrition, fighting hunger, and promoting justice and equality in our food system," said Susan Ungaro, president of the James Beard Foundation. "We are delighted to recognize these six visionaries as we celebrate our Foundation's sixth annual Leadership Awards ceremony."

The JBF Leadership Awards are co-hosted by Good Housekeeping, with founding support from the GRACE Communications Foundation, and will take place on October 17 at a dinner ceremony at Hearst Tower. The awards recognize specific outstanding initiatives as well as bodies of work and lifetime achievement. Criteria used to select this year's honorees include excellence of work, innovation in approach, and scale of impact either within a community or across the nation.

"Food has become so much more than just sustenance. It is now a focal point in almost every conversation around our society, our health, and our culture. Consumers are more engaged than ever—through social media, at experiential food events, and in their homes—they are craving more information on all culinary trends," said Good Housekeeping editor-in-chief, Jane Francisco. "Good Housekeeping has been at the forefront—with its prolific offering of recipes and advice for cooks at every level and its rigorous testing and reporting on the latest kitchen technologies in the GH Institute. For the sixth year running, Good Housekeeping is excited to partner with the James Beard Foundation and bring more inside information and expertise on the opportunities and issues surrounding the world of food today."

About the James Beard Foundation (JBF)

Founded in 1986, the James Beard Foundation celebrates, nurtures, and honors America's diverse culinary heritage through programs that educate and inspire. A cookbook author and teacher with an encyclopedic knowledge about food, the late James Beard was a champion of American cuisine. He helped educate and mentor generations of professional chefs and food enthusiasts, instilling in them the value of wholesome, healthful, and delicious food. Today JBF continues in the same spirit by administering a number of diverse programs that include educational initiatives, food industry awards, scholarships for culinary students, publications, chef advocacy training, and thought-leader convening. The Foundation also maintains the historic James Beard House in New York City's Greenwich Village as a "performance space" for visiting chefs. For more information, please visit jamesbeard.org.
